Awaiting a New Peak

VN30 performance

The VN30Index recorded its second consecutive recovery session, rising 0.67% to 2,094 points. Accordingly, capital flows returned to several stocks such as PLX (+6.92%), GAS (+6.01%), GVR (+5.85%), and VPB (+2.60%); in addition, 9 other stocks grew by more than 1%. On the opposite side, selling pressure appeared on SAB (-2.67%), MSN (-1.47%), and DGC (-1.36%).

VN30 Future chart: Awaiting a New Peak

The contract continued to grow and closed for the second consecutive session above the 10-period moving average. This implies that the previous sell signal may no longer hold reliability and the upward trend may return.

However, monitoring confirmation signals regarding the trend remains necessary before reopening positions, as liquidity declined in yesterday's session. Additionally, the index tests the previous historical peak zone at 2,090-2,100 points. Therefore, a breakout session proves essential to demonstrate that the upward trend will continue.

In the next session, the important support threshold lies at the 2,020-2,050 point zone, which coincides with the 20-period moving average. In addition, the resistance threshold stands at the 2,100-point zone.

Technical strategy

Despite numerous positive signals, investors still need to monitor additional signals to confirm the trend. Therefore, traders need to exercise caution and observe further signals before reopening positions.
