Liquidity slightly rebounded

In 14W26, market liquidity recorded a slight rebound. Specifically, the trading volume and value of the CWs market recorded 265.4 million CWs/VND295.4bn, up 2.1%/ 19.7%, respectively, WoW.

With trading value by an underlying asset, the CWs that HPG and STB as the underlying asset attracted the most trading interest, recording 28% of total trading volume. Following them were warrants based on stocks such as MWG, MBB, VHM, and ACB.

During the past week, the covered warrant market showed an improvement in liquidity; however, the number of declining warrants still dominated. This indicates that although cash flow has shown signs of returning, investor sentiment remains cautious and the negative trend continues to prevail. Accordingly, it suggests that in the underlying market, selling pressure is still dominant and the short-term trend has yet to improve.

Note: The covered warrant market is commonly used for short-term trading which means volatility level is extremely high. Notably, covered warrant has the positive correlation with its underlying, the short-term fluctuation in the underlying price could lead to the big move in covered warrant.
